Your invitation to Relay For Life’s Candle of Hope ceremony
Dear

I’m proud to be taking part in Relay For Life this year, joining thousands of people across the UK and many more around the world, to show that together we will beat cancer. Collectively, our local community unites for a weekend-long festival to remember everyone who has been affected by cancer and celebrate the power of community fundraising for life-saving research.

One of the most special parts of the celebrations is the Candle of Hope ceremony, which lights up the evening with dedicated candles, honouring every life touched by cancer. The hour-long ceremony is a chance for quiet remembrance, reflection and celebration.

I would love if you could join me at our local Candle of Hope ceremony to dedicate a candle to someone you’ve lost, a friend or family member living with cancer, a loved one who has survived, or hope for the future – a world where all cancers are cured.

For more information and to dedicate a candle ahead of the evening, simply head to cru.org/relay and search for our local Relay For Life.

It’d be great to see you there.

Best wishes,
